No Flying Trips.

Three air-minded families who had expected making a trip to Saturday afternoon in the Fokker Cubes. Plans met with a disappointment. A flyer made out on Friday afternoon with a plane to inspect the ground, and found the Fair grounds too small for his purpose, and on going over to the Schultz field found the ground there too soft for a big heavy plane with four passengers aboard to make a satisfactory getaway.

Eliminating the Dogs.

"Another dog gone!" is the cry heard weekly passed around on the streets these mornings. Some persons, or persons unknown, have been creating havoc among the town's canines, and a number of the latter have already "hit the dust," much to the sorrow of their owners.

It is surmised that an ambitious youth or youths, wishing to pass in cowboy regalia, intend using the hides with which to make a couple pair of chapsarajes.

Notice to Hockey Juniors.

A preliminary hockey game (16 and under the age of 21) wishing to try out for a position on the team will kindly notify the Secretary (Mrs. Ed Knudsen) of their intentions and specifying what positions they wish to play, and their possibility of attending training and hockey practices. All players must obtain membership tickets before they will be allowed on the ice.

The H. T. Walton Case Ends.

Mr Justice Ewing last week gave a written judgment in the Malawski-Walton case, at a sitting of the Supreme Civil Court. The Judge found that the 34 year-old plaintiff Malawski, who had lost weight from 170 to 120 lbs. after the accident, was permanently injured and granted him a $2500 special damage sum in addition to $786 for medical treatment. "I am of the opinion that the accident occurred because of the want of care of defendant," ruled the judge, and he quoted the words of a British Columbia judge, viz:

The fact that a motorist needs his hands on or off the steering wheel, or a pedestrian on the road ahead of him and walking in the same direction does not justify him in driving on without taking due care according to the circumstances. If he perceives that the pedestrian is not looking the way he is in his duty to bring his car under such control, even to the extent of coming to a full stop, that he will be able to guard against an accident should the pedestrian suddenly appear in his way as he is about to start off his car.

Unprofitable Practices Followed On Farms Causes Heavy Losses Which Could Easily Be Avoided

While many unprofitable practices are followed on farms throughout the country there would appear to be three that are outstanding that should long ago have been corrected, observes J. H. Spencer, Director of Publicity, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

These practices are the thick sowing of corn for a fodder crop; the putting down of barnyard manure; and the carrying on of dairy farming with cows the production of which is not determined by modern methods.

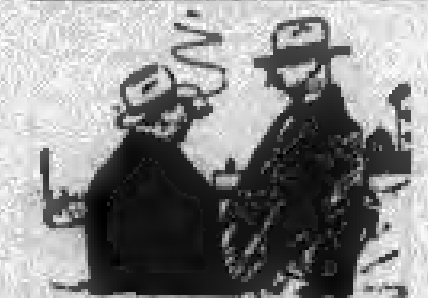

It is many years since it became generally understood that the thick planting of corn not only wasted seed, but resulted in a crop of low feeding value. It has long been demonstrated and the information made public that thinned manure loses value about at the same rate as it loses weight. Still these two practices are persisted in since heavy losses amongst particularly the class of farmers who can ill afford the waste that is incurred.

It is obvious on these practices are there is perhaps more waste for them than that of feeding, housing and milking cows that give so little as not to pay their own way in the herd. Feeding of corn for production by simple and sure methods has been long carried on in this country, and thousands of herds have been built up to a profitable rate of production. Owners of hundreds of thousands of cows and thousands of herds have not taken advantage of this service, and are each year helping to depress the farming industry. According to the latest annual report of the Federal Minister of Agriculture thirty thousand cows, representing three thousand three hundred herds, were tested, within the past fiscal year under the Live Stock Branch cow testing policy, which operates in all the provinces except British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Ontario. That is to say, of the more than 1,000,000 cows, females was taken to weigh and test the milk of only 30,000 during collection of their lactation period to indicate the returns they were making through the milk-pail. Of this number 12,140 cows averaged 8,810 pounds of milk, averaging 20.77 pounds of butterfat; 3,200 cows gave 200 pounds of butterfat and upwards. Three of the herds averaged more than 200 pounds of butterfat and 20 averaged 400 per cow.

The discovery by testing of the actual production of cows usually leads to several advanced steps in farming practice. The unprofitable producers are no longer maintained in the herd, and the better ones are given greater care. More suitable and heavier yielding feeds are grown, and improvement by the use of better sires is at once commenced.

To assist farmers in having their herds tested upwards of twenty dairy promoters are employed by the Federal Department of Agriculture in encouraging and helping in the testing and recording of herds within cow testing associations of which there were 264 operating in the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba, Quebec and the three maritime provinces. The Live Stock Branch of Ottawa is ready to assist and direct dairy farmers in obtaining modern methods in determining whether or not the cows are producing milk in profitable quantities.

Share Raising Of Farms

Helpful Circular Prepared At Ontario Agricultural College

An excellent circular containing a brief but comprehensive discussion of the principles and conditions of share raising at farms has just been prepared by Department of Agricultural Sciences at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Anyone interested may secure a copy by writing to that department.

Two main plans of rental are set forth, namely crop-share renting and live-stock-and-crop-share renting. Many modifications of these are suggested and discussed. Tables are given showing satisfactory proportional division of expenditures and returns on between landlord and tenant, under varying conditions of soil fertility, buildings and equipment, and market facilities. The circular also contains a form of agreement which should prove very useful, both to tenants and to those who have farms to rent, in helping to avoid some of the pitfalls common with loosely stated or with unwritten agreements.

Cost Of High Schools

Free Secondary Education For Everybody Is Increasing Expense

The survey against the increased cost of high school education day by day, and the attack centers pretty much around one point.

The question at issue is this, says a writer in Toronto Saturday Night: "Can we afford free secondary education for everybody? As long as only a small proportion of children presented themselves for it the question did not arise. Now, with half of all children appearing in high school—very much more than half in others—it forces itself upon us. If all of the youth attempting it were capable of benefiting from it it might be a good investment. This may be something of what a leading English educationalist has in mind when he tells us that in the old land they cannot afford it, neither can we, but we do not realize it."—Scott Daily Star.

The Other Side

As the Ottawa Journal remarks, the subject of dogs is a "taboo one." To most of us, in question, dogs are a nuisance, but there is another side to it. There is the boy-and-his-dog side; the sentimental little animal, a companion to man, perhaps, but to the boy a companion to be fought for and protected. Let us not forget the boy's side of the question; in him it means a very great deal.

Cases are again in vogue in England.

Spanish Apiarist Has Evolved A Plan To Greatly Increase The Production Of Honey

Spain's Five-Year Plan For Beekeeping

Production Stopped On This Year Instead Of Increasing

Complete production figures for the first seven months of the current year indicate practically the end of the Spanish beekeeping industry for the five-year program for beekeeping the first seven months, and, consequently, the agricultural in four years.

The production figures showed that industry gained 17 per cent. over the corresponding seven months of 1912, but this was less than half of the 20 per cent. growth set for the year with the view of completing the five-year program.

Industrial growth may if steps improvement is achieved in the first quarter of 1915, reach 20 or 25 per cent., which is about the average for recent years. But this would be still far short of the goal and leave the "production" unfulfilled.

The most disturbing element in the production picture for the seven months of 1915 is the fact that the output in beekeeping industries has been declining rather than increasing. After a fairly good start in January and February, production dropped gradually as food and transport difficulties piled up.

Canadian Used Again After Fifty Years

First To Furnish Commercial Power For Electric Light

Although the head of the master inventor was not there to help, Old Justin W. S. the first generator which ever furnished commercial power for electric light, came to life recently at Henry Ford's Grand Old Village. The occasion was the dedication in New York of a plaque at the site of the old Ford St. station which housed the generator 50 years ago.

As the old generator, rebuilt and housed in the Ford museum, among late arrival a description of the same was conveyed to the New York daily delivery group by radio.

Alfred Dow, now president of the Detroit Edison Company, located the valve wheel. He recalled that when Thomas A. Edison first turned on the generator and provided electric light to 400 New York homes, he was studying under a flickering lamp light in Liverpool. As Dow turned the valve, the same one Edison had installed a half century ago, the old generator, due to all the great power plants of today, leaped into action and current went through the circuit to light a dozen old-fashioned light bulbs.

Working on the theory that the honey bee will not be kept under, Don Jose Barrios, who has developed a hive which may revolutionize the bee industry.

Don Jose Barrios is an experienced beekeeper at Sanluis, in Valencia. After perfecting his new device and becoming convinced that the productivity of the bee was in some cases to be increased 100 per cent. he has demonstrated the apparatus at the museum of natural sciences, Madrid, where it created a great impression.

The basic principle of the new hive is the simplification of the bee's life so that it can devote more of its energy toward the business of making honey. The apparatus is known as the "vacuum-hive," for it isolates honey, all that is necessary is to perform a simple operation with a device of Barrios's invention, and then open a spout through which the honey flows out.

All of this is accomplished without disturbing the bees, and in this manner all the complicated procedure of the old style beekeeping is eliminated.

"Furthermore," he explained, "the 'vacuum-hive' enables us to locate the bees to make work. In the springtime, when there is plenty of nectar in the flowers, their capacity for making honey is greatly increased. In order to utilize this potential capacity all we have to do is drain off the honey, and they will then begin to produce more."

"And, in view of the fact that the honeycomb is practically indestructible, the machine which the bee would otherwise have to be constantly working to create a new comb are unnecessary, and can be devoted to the task of producing more honey. Or, in the case of the bee which was kept in a wooden hive, the new process obviates the necessity for purchasing them."

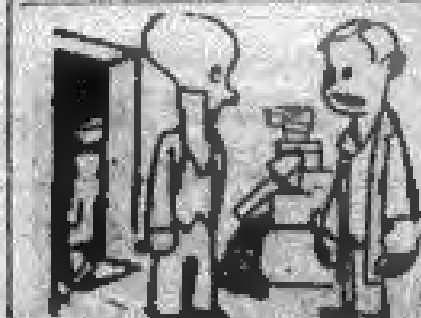

"Of course, as things are at present, many persons desire to buy their honey in the comb, in order to be sure of its purity. But when the public knows that the product of the 'vacuum-hive' is guaranteed to be obtained without the necessity of having to touch the comb at all or of drying using the bees away by smoke to make other method, and instead is obtained by simply turning a key and letting it run out to all the public, without any pollen or other matter, they will be reassured of its quality."

"There are many incidental advantages of the new invention," Barrios added, "one of them being that there is no necessity for ever introducing the bees. When, under the present system, the beekeeper goes out to get the bees, he is well protected by a net around his face, and gloves—but the introduced bees go as far as two little natives away and sting other persons who do not happen to have a net around their faces. Under the new system they are never introduced, and hence are perfectly happy—and so that reason, they produce more."

Barrios has made a life study of bees. He long ago became convinced that they are more intelligent than man, and that man, in utilizing the activities of the bee, was not getting as much results as might be secured, for the very fact that certain rather unusual elements were adopted by the bee industry.

IS THE UNITED STATES PRESIDENT AN ENGLISHMAN?

It has been disclosed that not long ago a great deal of research was made by officials in the Prime Minister's Department of the House of Commons, England, to find out whether or not President Hoover was one of British subject. The period of the search covered the years between 1901 and 1905. The inquiry related to the United States President, who many years ago lived at the "Red House," in Hendon Street, Hendon, London. No official information has been given concerning the result of the search. Above is a picture of the residence in "Red House," while below is a good photograph of President Hoover.

New Engine For Aeroplanes

New Type Of Flying Machine To Be Tested

Donald C. Johnston, proprietor of an Akron, Ohio, welding shop, opened the doors of his small plant and disclosed a brand new aeroplane engine which he tuned up to 1,500 revolutions per minute.

Johnston a builder of his own aeroplane designs, said he had spent nine months in developing the engine after a "plane accident" more than a year ago had caused him to seek a way of eliminating the fire hazard in aviation.

Weighing only 140 pounds, exclusive of the propeller, the engine will develop 60 horse-power.

The engine is to be installed within a few weeks in a small "plane" and flown to the Pacific Coast.

"I want to tell you how I got acquainted with Diamond Tints," says a cordial letter from a Windsor woman. "I was in the drug store and saw some attractive Diamond Tint packages. The druggist told me they were for tinting light shades without boiling. He said they were made by the Diamond Dyes people. I have always used Diamond Dyes for dyeing dark colours and knew they are the best dye made. When I saw Diamond Tints I thought of a 2-year old dress which I had to quit wearing because it was so faded. I got a package and gave my dress the simple rinsing called for. It came out the loveliest shade—a lustrous, shimmering yellow. I have laundered it several times but have never had to retint. It certainly holds the colour. I'm perfectly delighted with my new dress, as I call it, and my husband says it's the prettiest one I have."

WB Hurt American Imports

Report of food products from the United States to the United Kingdom will probably be affected to the tune of $120,700,000 annually by the agreements reached at the Imperial Economic Conference between the United Kingdom and the Dominions, says the Journal of Commerce, New York.

Pointing out the effect of the agreements on United States products is problematical and probably impossible to forecast with any degree of certainty. The paper states a compilation of export values of the foodstuffs affected for the past five years led to the above valuation.

According to the story, the men starved to death and their bodies, found months afterward, were buried near the spot where the bones were found.

A Lost Man

Searchers Searching For They Lost Of Land In the Pacific

Sarah Ann, wife to the commander of the astronomical world, has disappeared and, it is feared, drowned. Just a pin-point freckle on the broad face of the Pacific, Sarah Ann was—and maybe is—the latest sort of an unhabited island.

This Cinderella of the sea was last reported alive some 15 years ago. Then of no value to anyone and avoided by ship captains, she has become today a spot of great importance. If she can be located, many scientists want a date five years from now.

The reason for the sudden popularity arises from efforts to calculate the course of the 1907 eclipse.

It has been found that on June 20, 1907, the sun will be eclipsed totally by the moon for about seven minutes. In all the Pacific, Sarah Ann was the only reported spot of land suitable for observation in the 5,000-mile long, 120-mile wide band of totality.

Unless Sarah Ann can be found, it is possible a coral reef may be built up to island status for the seven minutes.

Testing Wheat Samples

Meeting Held in Winnipeg Of National Research Council

The question of testing samples of hard red spring wheats, received for exhibition at the World Grain Exhibition to be held at Regina next year, was dealt with at the annual meeting of the associate committee on grain research of the National Research Council held in Winnipeg.

L. M. Newman, Dominion cornet and chairman of the awards committee of the world show, introduced the question. After full discussion, it was decided milling and baking tests need only be applied to the limited number of exhibits remaining at other recognized methods of judging had been applied.

Various technical reports were delivered at the final session of the annual meeting and it was decided to meet in Winnipeg again in April, 1908.

Lesson: Proverbs 20:20-25; Romans 13:1-7; 1 Corinthians 9:16-27; Galatians 6:1-16; 1 Peter 2:11-17.

Devotional Reading: 1 Peter 4:12-18.

Explanations and Comments

The Duty Of Obeying Civil Authority.—My, Romans 13:1-7.—The Jews of Rome were notoriously bad subjects. "Many of them held, on the ground of Deuteronomy 17:16, that to acknowledge a Gentile ruler was itself sinful; and the spirit which prompted Pharisees of Jerusalem to ask, 'Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?' had, no doubt, its representatives in Rome also. As believers in the Messiah, the another king, one Jesus" (Acts 17:7), even Christians of Gentile origin have been open to the impulse of the same spirit; and unbalanced minds, then as in all ages, might be disposed to find in the loyalty which was due to Christ alone, an emancipation from all subjection to inferior powers." Paul counseled the Christians of Rome to obey the higher powers—those in authority, the civil rulers—and then he laid down the principle that the fact of the authority's being established argues that it was ordained of God. Therefore, he argues, he who defies the power is defying what has been instituted by God, and shall be judged accordingly.

"The cruel abuses in governments are no necessary part of them, and do not invalidate their divine character any more than the abuses of marriage rob it of its sacredness. Any government is preferable to anarchy, just as poorly enforced marriage laws are better than none. Man abuses all God's gifts."—James Stiffer.

Sowing and Reaping, Galatians 6:7-10.—God's law of the spiritual harvest is that one reaps what he sows. "Wild oats" take something out of the soil of a man's life that no system of crop rotation can restore."

He who tills the field of his evil nature, is doomed to perdition; but the one who tills the field of his spiritual life shall reap eternal life. "The heart sows into the Spirit whenever it thought or deed his prompting is obeyed and his will made the law of life."—Findlay.

"Folks that get weary in well-doing generally haven't done much at it, when you come to hunt up their records. The weariness is usually at the beginning, and sorts out the workers from the shirkers."

Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all men, and especially to the followers of Christ whose faith makes them one household, or family.

Many children die from the assaults of worms, and the first care of mothers are should be to see that their infants are free from these pests. A vermifuge that can be depended on is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only expel worms from the system, but act as a health-giving medicine and a remedy for many of the ailments that beset infants, effecting them and endangering their lives.

Pigeon Racing Popular

An idea of the popularity of pigeon racing in Great Britain can be gathered from the fact that there are 10,000,000 trained racing pigeons in the country and prize-money amounts to $1,200,000 annually. During one season each of the four British railways groups will carry about 2,000,000 pigeons in special coaches to various parts of the country for liberation.

MAY CONSIDER FIVE CENT BONUS FOR 1932 CROP

Ottawa, Ont.—The Federal Government is considering paying a bonus of five cents a bushel to western Canada's farmers of the 1932 wheat crop. This was definitely stated in the House of Commons by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, when questioned on the subject by John Vickers, Liberal, (South Saskatchewan). No indication was given when a decision could be expected.

A bonus of five cents a bushel was paid to western wheat growers last year by the government, and was paid through the board of grain commissioners.

The question and answer between Prime Minister Bennett and Mr. Vickers were short.

Mr. Vickers said he had received three telegrams from points in the west, each urging him to press for the bonus of five cents a bushel on wheat. One telegram, he said, stated if the bonus were not granted, "revolution was inevitable."

"The government has the matter under consideration," the Prime Minister replied.

Ayrerworth, England.—Miss Olive Head, Winnipeg newspaperwoman, arrived at this Gloucestershire port aboard the Italian liner "Juvénat," 12 days and 21 hours after leaving Churchill, Man. She was the first woman to sail from Canada's northernmost seaport.

What impressed her most was the fact the pilot was dropped only two miles out of Churchill after which the ship steamed steadily between ice and 10 knots, meeting fog only on one day.

During the entire 2,076 miles, she said, the ship had sighted only four icebergs, all early in the trip and all at a considerable distance.

Liberal Candidate Wins Out By Majority Of One Vote

Summerside, P.E.I.—Given a majority of one vote in the by-election, Dr. J. F. MacNeill, Liberal, was declared elected to represent the 25th district of Prince in the Prince Edward Island legislative assembly.

His total vote, officially announced by the returning officer, was 1,267. H. M. Downing, his Conservative opponent, received 1,266. It is understood that Mr. Downing will file an application for a recount.

Labour Battalion Formed

B.C. Plans To Carry Out Road Work During Winter

Victoria, B.C.—British Columbia's first labour battalion spring into being when provisions for the segregation of young men in camps, members of non-permanent active militia, was made so that these men may be placed in a single camp in the universally undermanned lands area, Point Grey, Vancouver, under military discipline, with the object of carrying out road work in that area during winter months.

Request Passes For Workmen

Alberta Jobs Help From Ottawa For Stranded Men

Edmonton, Alberta.—Efforts to move single unemployed men, residents of Vancouver and other British Columbia cities, who have been stranded in Edmonton and Calgary and other prairie points as a result of the loss of freight loads riding, are now under way.

Frederic J. E. Brownlee stated no indication had been received as to what Ottawa was prepared to do.

It is understood R.C.M.P. officials have suggested each man be required to make an affidavit as to his proper place of residence and then the required number of railway passenger cars, of the correct type, be requisitioned by the federal government to take the men to their homes. Under this plan each man would receive a pass to travel on those cars.

Vancouver, B.C.—Mayor L. D. Taylor has moved swiftly in an effort to block Edmonton's agitation at Ottawa for the removal of the "red-riding" bus. Fearing a flood of unemployed from the prairies on Vancouver and other coast cities, his worshipful Prime Minister Bennett, urging the bus remain.

Criticism British Attitude

De Valera Says British Playing Part Of Shylock

Dublin, Irish Free State.—Great Britain is "playing the part of Shylock" toward the Free State and at the same time petitioning the United States for relief from war debts "which no sane people are morally and legally due," President James de Valera declared before the Irish assembly today.

The president was making his report to the legislature on the failure of the negotiations in London which had been aimed at terminating the Anglo-Irish tariff war. He said these negotiations had failed because Britain insisted members of a suggested arbitration committee should be limited to representatives of empire nations. This insistence, he added, ruled out any possibility of arbitration.

Mr. De Valera declared the Free State was neither legally nor morally obligated to pay land annuities to Britain.

For Disarmament

Memorial To Premier MacDonald Urging Acceptance Of U.N. Proposals

London, England.—Three hundred well-known Britons signed a national memorial to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald urging acceptance of the principle of the United States proposal to cut armaments by nearly one-third.

The memorial said the government should "as a practical step towards establishment of a status of equality in armaments declare forthwith acceptance of the principle of the proposals of President Herbert Hoover."

Among the signers were Lord Cecil, the Archbishop of York, Dean Inge, Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Norman Angell, Miss Rayner, John Drinkwater, John Galsworthy, and H. G. Wells.

Lumbermen Placed

Abrogation Of Anglo-Soviet Commercial Treaty Said News To B.C.

Victoria, B.C.—Abrogation of the Anglo-Soviet commercial treaty announced in London, England, is good news to the British Columbia lumber industry, which has been forced to compete with Russian dumped lumber in Great Britain.

"This is the most encouraging news that has been received for some time," said Hon. H. B. Langford, Minister of Lands, in commenting on the statement of Sir John J. M. Thomson that the Soviet trade agreement with Great Britain would be terminated.

Vancouver Canada Winter Fair

Vancouver, B.C.—The annual winter fair here will not be held this year because of the epidemic involved. It was decided by the Vancouver Exhibition Association.

Japanese Bandits May Release Captives

How Close To Agreement About British Subjects In Report

Shanghai, China.—Japanese intermediaries at Hankow were reported to have reached an agreement to effect the release of Mrs. Kenneth Farley and Charles Carleton, British subjects, who were captured several weeks ago by bandits.

The agreement provides for payment of 120,000 yen (about $22,500), 200 pounds of opium and a supply of winter clothing for the bandits.

World Economic Conference

Date For Meeting at London To Be Decided Soon

Ottawa, Ont.—The date for the convening of the World Economic Conference in London, England, will be decided upon some time in November, it was stated on highest authority. Fixing of the date, which may be in December or January, will be a matter of agreement between the government of the United Kingdom, which extended the invitations, and foreign and other powers who will be represented at the party.

1,200 Men Given Work

Detroit.—David Wideman, secretary and treasurer of the Murray Corporation of America, manufacturers of automobile bodies, announced that the company this week is rehiring 1,200 employees, mostly tool makers, and increasing its payroll about $26,000 a week in preparation for the production of 1932 models by automobile factories.

Jobless Create Problem

Fronting Government Officials With Plenty Of Worry

Calgary, Alberta.—Single jobless in western Canada are in a quandary and providing government officials with a healthy problem.

Efforts to have the Dominion government provide them with transportation back to their homes brought statements from Mayor Louis D. Taylor, of Vancouver, that he feared they would all say Vancouver was their home and seek transportation for the next city if such transportation was granted.

With 1,000,000 in Edmonton unemployed work and another 1,200 here, efforts were being made to find some means of aiding them. During the winter months or paving the way for their return to their homes, checked when the loss of red-riding went into effect at the end of September.

Civic officials here said no relief was being granted able-bodied single men. Whether any would be granted later was not ventured, pending announcement of federal relief plans for the coming winter.

No Comment From Soviets

From What Is For The Agreement On Trade Agreement

Moscow, Russia.—A despatch from London, England, reporting the conclusion of the British trade agreement with Russia was published in Moscow newspaper without comment, apparently having been received too late for editorial expression.

During the Ottawa conference Soviet newspapers threatened reprisals if Great Britain sought to place restrictions on its purchases from Russia in accord with reported Canadian demands.

London, England.—There was a general recognition in the London press that the announcement of the Anglo-Russian trade treaty was the logical sequence of the Imperial Conference at Ottawa.

Her Long Sleep

Not Said To Be Sleeping From Sleeping Sickness Lasting Many Months

Chicago.—Like Washington Irving's Rip Van Winkle, Miss Patricia McGuire, 27, who has been ill with sleeping sickness since last February 24, is going to have a lot of work to catch up on when she awakens from her long slumber.

Physicians who have attended her in her suburban home in Oak Park say there are unmistakable signs that she is awakening and her friends are wondering what her reactions will be to the many things that have happened since she fell asleep.

OTTAWA PACT IS APPROVED BY BRITISH HOUSE

London, England.—A majority of 300 was secured by the government in the House of Commons on the first vote relative to the Ottawa agreement. The vote was not on the agreement itself but on a resolution of procedure in connection with legislation implementing the agreement.

It was taken, nevertheless, as a good indication of how the House is divided on the trade agreement and the trade necessary to carry them out.

To implement the agreement it will be necessary to impose 30 new United Kingdom duties on foreign goods. The normal procedure would be to pass a separate resolution for each duty. The government motion before the House was to authorize the incorporation of the whole 30 duties into one resolution.

The government motion was carried 301 to 20, and the House resumed general debate on the trade agreement.

Major C. B. Allen, former Labor Minister, criticized the Labor party did not intend to be bound by the Ottawa agreement. He added that he understood his party's views were shared by Sir Herbert Samuel, Sir Max W. L. Macdonald King, Liberal leader of the Canadian House of Commons, and J. R. Scollie, leader of the opposition in the Australian government.

The Thames Riot

Minister To Come Up For Debate In House Of Commons

London, England.—Twelve hours after 10,000 jobless men and women had rioted across the Thames from Parliament Square, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald promised to permit debate on the House of Commons on unemployment.

A questioning member of parliament previously had brought up the riot as a subject of discussion, and Sir John Simon, the Home Secretary, reported the demonstration was organized by a Communist organization.

Fifty men and four women who were rounded up during the rioting and having that followed, were taken into custody. Lambeth police court recently under heavy guard. Outside crowds of unemployed began to assemble but police have held them in lower Kensington Lane.

The prisoners were sentenced to pay fines of 40 shillings each (about seven dollars) or serve jail terms of 14 days to one month.

English Prison Riot

Outbreak Caused Believed To Quail Disobedience

Ottawa, Ont.—The Ottawa Citizen carried the following despatch from Kingston following the penitentiary riot:

It is stated a threat was made to set a fire before "Red" Ryan, at one time a dangerous head, took action, and then he addressed an angry mob of convicts and appealed to them not to start the riot or do any damage. "For God's sake, men, do not do this—I will not get you anywhere. I tried it one time and it didn't get me any place," he is reported as saying.

It is stated that "Red" Ryan's appeal helped to quiet down the convicts.

The Auto Liability Law.

The financial responsibility law for automobile drivers, passed at the last session of the B.C. legislature, is now in force in that province. This law will require satisfaction of all judgments and payment of any fines assessed against permit holders in operation of their cars or trucks.

Similar legislation is now in force in Ontario, New Brunswick, P. E. Island, Manitoba and Nova Scotia.

Briefly, the new law does not require a person applying for a license as a driver of a motor vehicle or for a motor vehicle permit for a car, to prove financial responsibility unless and until he has brought himself under the operation of the law by some offense of driving or thru failure to satisfy a final judgment against him within 90 days for damage he has done, thru operation of a car, to the person or property of others.

In any of these events his license to drive or permit to operate a motor vehicle will be suspended. The license or permit will remain suspended until he has proof of financial responsibility and, in case of a judgment, satisfied such judgment; or, in the case of a conviction for an offense, paid the penalty imposed.

Proof of financial responsibility shall be in not less than $5000 for injury to or the death of any one person and, subject to that limit for any one person, $10,000 for injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident—exclusive of interests and costs—and $1000 for damage to property of others (exclusive of interest and costs).

In the case of an owner who is required to give proof of financial responsibility, proof must be given in respect of each motor vehicle owned by him.

Who Would Have Believed It

In a recent issue the Hanna Herald stated: "The one encouraging thing about this depression is that it has shown that people are, to use a vernacular term, gluttons for punishment. Three years ago if one had been asked if we were Canada could exist on 60c wheat the reply would be a decided 'No.' And yet the country seems to be getting by somehow! Three years ago we would not have believed that the people could have endured what they have since gone thru without breaking out into red revolution. Three years ago no one with any knowledge of business would have given the railways, banks, trust companies, insurance companies, etc., a chance to weather such terrible financial times as we have since witnessed. They were hard hit, it is true, but they are getting by and doing business!"

Bad Senior Hockey Meeting.

A second meeting of Seniors was held Oct. 19, at which a fair representative attendance was present, thus enabling a final discussion on the business and activities of the club for the coming season.

The meeting was carried out according to the following plan—

1—Organization—L. M. Larson was elected Pres. by a great majority; Dr. Ostway for V-Pres; E. Anderson unanimously elected Sec-treas.

A finance committee composed of L. M. Larson, S. Comins, L. Ostway, H. Lewis were elected to aid the Sec-treas.

2—The report of the ways and means (now the finance committee) was considered. It was proposed that a whist drive be held instead of a dance, as one of the means of obtaining funds.

The committee was also authorized to carry out the action with regards to a club membership fee. The fee was set at 50c.

3—The town council was next approached in connection with risk improvements. It was unanimously decided that the club house, now situated at the entrance to the grounds, be moved up the risk, for the purpose of providing shelter for the fans. Improvements to the house are also to be carried out.

4—Pre-season training was next considered and made voluntary. It is hoped that each player will respond and be on hand at each meeting (training) under the supervision of P. Enders.

5—The discussion as to the new League was postponed until a later date.

May it be clearly understood that all fans interested personally in the senior hockey club may become members as well as all players. Pay your membership fee now to S. Comins, L. M. Larson, L. Ostway, H. Lewis.

With the Junior Puckchangers

On Wed. last the local Junior Hockey club held its second meeting with Sec. H. Ostway in the chair.

After minutes of the last meeting had been read and adopted, the chairman called for an election of officers.

Louis Wudel and Harold Ostway were tied for President; the latter being finally elected; Louis Wudel being elected as V-President. E. W. Enders was elected Secretary Treas; C. Lory was re-appointed manager; L. Ostway has been asked to act as coach.

A report was then read from O. Wudel of the finance committee. It was decided to hold a whist drive in the town hall Friday Oct. 28. Membership tickets are being sold. Another whist or bridge drive will be held early in Dec.

The improvements needed at the risk were decided upon, and the Junior will co-operate with the Seniors to accomplish this. A recommendation will be sent the town council in favor of re-letting the risk to G. Zucht.

No more business came up for discussion, but all thought that games should be arranged as soon as possible. This applies to the town around Edmonton.

Holborn Happenings.

Holborn U. F. Juniors held their vocational meeting on Sat. Oct. 8. A very pleasant time was had, and an excellent speech delivered by Mr. Bryan of Stony Plain on Law ended the meeting. A lunch was served afterward, and we departed for home.

The Wheat Club held its Seed Fair on Tues. Oct. 25th, at the Hall, and was attended by Mr. Gray. A social evening followed.—H.J.R.

Want Fixed Prices.

That the Central Executive of the United Farmers should take immediate steps to force creditors into the acceptance of wheat from farmers in settlement of liabilities on a basis of not less than 50c for No. 1 Northern at local elevators, was the gist of a resolution passed last week by Edmonton U.F. Local. The resolution set out that wheat prices had fallen to such a low level that it made it impossible for farmers to meet their liabilities at present prices.

Sparkie Says.

Every dispenser of "Rhine" should use his own car, and should be a good linguist.

Possibly the reason there aren't more fatalities among patrons of the Society Boulevard is because the "Legger" lacks the capital to do a larger business.

Satisfied Canadian Owners have established CHEVROLET LEADERSHIP!

A hundred thousand owners of low-priced cars throughout Canada were invited recently to tell what they thought was Chevrolet's most important story. Like a recurrent theme through the thousands of entries received was the conviction that Chevrolet leadership is based on the goodwill of the men and women who have tested the Chevrolet Six in millions of miles of driving.

The Chevrolet Six you buy today is a proved car; proved on the hard testing ground of a nation's roads and byways in the satisfaction of thousands of your fellow-Canadians. It has won acknowledgment today as the Great Canadian Value, just as this proved title has been won by each succeeding Chevrolet since the first of the Six came out of the factory at Grosse Pointe, years ago.

No wonder, then, that since January 1st, Canadians have purchased more Chevrolets than any other car, regardless of price. What materials have said in an uncertain way that they want six-cylinder construction, free-wheeling, cylinder-mech gear-shifting, Fisher bodies, four parallel-mounted springs—and the other Chevrolet features without which no 1932 car can possibly be called complete!
